Welcome to Dance Fest!

We're very happy to have you here today at the second annual Dance Fest. Dance Fest strives to introduce individuals of all ages to competitive ballroom dance and to create a supportive environment for dancers of all levels. Whether you're dancing or spectating, we're confident you'll enjoy this event.

This year we refined Dance Fest and kept what made last year so great: the welcoming atmosphere and the local, friendly approach. Upgrades from last year include:

- The addition of a second bronze category, advanced bronze
- Seminars taught by some of the nation's best coaches
- A makeup and hair vendor
- A streamlined offering of food and beverages
- Photography available free of charge to all competitors
- More than double the scholarship and gifts—valued at more than $12,000 all told!

While you're here, be sure to read through your complimentary copy of Sheer Dance, an independent magazine designed to engage the partner-dancing community. It comes out online on the first of each month at www.sheerdance.com, and you can like the Facebook page if you'd like to receive updates and announcements for the latest issue. You can also subscribe to the publication and have a copy mailed to your home or office each month. If you'd like to share photos or stories of your dance experiences, your submissions are always welcome and can be emailed to info@sheerdance.com.

Later in the year, we look forward to the fourth annual Minnesota Ballroom Blast on Saturday, October 24th. With over 220 participants and hundreds of spectators last year, this fun and low-stress event is designed to provide dancers with feedback from world-class professionals. Newcomers to competing or ballroom dance in general can enjoy a fun, stress-free way to get feedback and understand the format of a dance competition. Blast also makes for an ideal companion event for the many competitors who find winter competitions to be the highlight of their year. Instead of just placements, find out how the judges react to the work you've put in so that at your next competition, you're ready to make your callbacks and take first place. As with Dance Fest, there will be seminars throughout the day that will help you make sense of your feedback and improve as a dancer.

The highlight of Minnesota Ballroom Blast will be the evening social dance. As a variety dance that featured over 160 dancers on the floor at its peak in 2014, the evening dance is a great way to mingle with enthusiastic dancers from around the entire Midwest. The evening will also feature performances by nationally ranked talent. With such a spectacular show in the evening, Blast is a fabulous event for spectators as well as those seeking critique. For more information, check out www.mnballroomblast.com

Thank you for supporting ballroom dance in the Midwest, and we hope you have a wonderful time here at Dance Fest.

Enjoy!

Newcomer's Guide to Competitive Ballroom Dancing

DANCESPORT

Ballroom dancing is a competitive sport with specific rules, structures, and judging criteria. A typical ballroom competition consists of events in various dance styles, age groups, and skill levels.

DANCE STYLES

The following dance styles are featured at most USA Dance DanceSport Competitions:

American Rhythm

- Cha Cha
- Rumba
- Swing
- Bolero
- Mambo

American Smooth

- Waltz
- Tango
- Foxtrot
- Viennese Waltz

International Latin

- Cha Cha
- Samba
- Rumba
- Paso Doble
- Jive

International Standard

- Waltz
- Tango
- Viennese Waltz
- Foxtrot
- Quickstep

International standard and American smooth share many technical principles, and many couples compete in both styles. In standard, the couple remains in closed dance position throughout each dance. In smooth, they dance in open positions (side by side, shadow, etc.) as well as in closed position.

Although international Latin and American rhythm both include cha cha and rumba, each dance style uses different technique and music tempos.

SKILL LEVELS

In ballroom parlance, the term proficiency level is used to describe the expertise with which a given couple performs—a combination of their training, competition experience, and natural talent. Depending on the skill level, dancers will compete in single-dance events (one dance at a time) or multi-dance events (several dances in a row). As the skill level increases, so do the number of dances available to the dancers.

Newcomer

Dance Fest includes a newcomer level, consisting of single-dance events, which provides dancers new to competing with a level in which they can primarily dance with other newcomers.

Syllabus Levels

- Bronze
- Silver
- Gold

In each dance style, couples generally begin at the bronze syllabus level and work their way up through silver and gold. Each syllabus level has a list of clearly defined dance steps, or figures. Couples competing in a given syllabus are not allowed to perform figures of a higher proficiency level, although couples competing in silver or gold usually include certain bronze figures in their routines. There are also certain costume restrictions on syllabus dancers. For example, syllabus costumes may not feature shiny fabric, crystals, or decorations.

Open Levels

- Pre-Championship
- Championship

Dancers typically graduate from the syllabus levels on to the open levels. At the open levels, both costume and figure restrictions are lifted, though dancers do still use syllabus figures along with original, non-syllabus choreography. Championship is the most competitive level in ballroom dance.

MIXED PROFICIENCY

Mixed-proficiency events give dancers a unique opportunity to compete with someone at a different level of dancing. Brand-new dancers can dance with people who have been dancing awhile; people who have been dancing for over twenty years can dance with individuals in their first year of dancing; etc. In these partnerships, only the less proficient partner is judged.

TEAM MATCHES

At Dance Fest, collegiate teams compete in international and American styles, vying for first-place honors and generous scholarship money to help encourage their continued exploration of ballroom dance. Each team consists of three couples, and each couple is assigned a specific dance in their chosen style. The team matches are very loud and exuberant, so find some earplugs and get ready to cheer for your favorite team!

JACK AND JILL

Jack and Jill events are designed to be fun for everyone! In these dances, couples are paired up randomly and are often judged on enthusiasm as well as technique. Dancers and spectators alike are encouraged to get involved in the Jack and Jill dances. You never know who might take home first place!

STRICTLY DANCES

The Strictly category contains dances not included in the core four styles of American rhythm and smooth and international Latin and standard. These dances include Argentine tango, lindy hop, salsa, west coast swing, etc. These are judged based on the character and technique of each dance, which can be very different from the techniques customary in the core four dance styles.

JUDGING

Judges are certified by various licensing agencies. They are also experienced competitors and instructors.

Judging is both an objective and a subjective process. Couples are judged on their technical skill, their interpretation of each dance, and their showmanship. In addition, each adjudicator has his or her own personal standards. For this reason, several adjudicators will judge each event to ensure fairness.

Depending on the number of entries, competitors may be required to compete in a series of elimination rounds until six couples are recalled for the final round by the judges. These six couples will be ranked first through sixth.

COMPETITOR PARTICIPATION

Dancers compete in heats, which are a specific group of competitors competing in a particular event at a specified time (or times, if there will be callbacks). Typically, dancers will receive a program or heat list to let them know approximately what times they'll be expected to compete. Dancers should be prepared to compete at least half an hour before their scheduled heats in case the competition is running ahead of schedule.

When it is time for dancers to compete, they will form a line with their fellow competitors in the designated on-deck area. When their heat is called, they'll find a spot on the floor and dance until the music stops. They'll take a bow and exit the floor. If a heat has a large number of competitors, it is likely there will be a callback process in which the judges select a number of couples to return to the floor and dance again. This process will continue until there are eight or fewer couples (the ideal number is six) remaining on the floor, which will be the final round.

AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION

Many people attending their first ballroom event expect to find the audience sitting in serene dignity, delicately applauding at the completion of each dance. Instead, the spectators are yelling, jumping up and down, and generally carrying on the way they would at any other spectator sport.

Ballroom dancers thrive on audience appreciation. Even if you don't know the first thing about ballroom, you still have an important role to play at an event. Audience participation is not only allowed but is encouraged and welcomed.

Cheer, applaud, and call out the numbers of your favorite couples. Being an active spectator ensures that you'll have a great time!

Thanks for Joining Us!

We'd love to see you at the fourth annual Minnesota Ballroom Blast, a fun, low-stress event designed to provide dancers with feedback from seasoned dance professionals. This event is excellent preparation for upcoming competitions. If you want to know what the judges see when you dance, without the stress of competing against other couples, join us on October 24th at the North Star Ballroom. Spoiler alert: you won't want to miss the seminars at Blast; they will be epic! Visit www.mnballroomblast.com for more information.

Don't forget to submit photos and articles to Sheer Dance! All content can be emailed to info@sheerdance.com, and you can download the magazine at www.sheerdance.com. Sheer Dance is your first stop for information on what's going on in the local partner-dancing community.
